

This two-part challenge runs from January 11 - January 31, 2024.

PART I

Book Sharing

We warmly invite you to share a book in the Academy Facebook group, one that has touched your life or recently inspired you. Your selection doesn't have to be related to art; we're excited to explore the diverse range of books that have meaningfully impacted our community. Share your story with us!

Please post a photo of the book, along with one or two sentences about why you love it — you could share a specific insight, or highlight a favorite quote, recipe, image, section, or any aspect of the book that stands out to you. Do your best to 'sell it' to the rest of the group!! Be sure to use the hashtag #a2lchallenge within your post. To get you started, the Art2Life team has shared their top picks!

Note: during the closing call on Jan. 31st, we will be doing a surprise giveaway!
To be in the running you have to have shared a book!!

PART II

Artistic Interpretation

Create a piece of art inspired by the book you shared or by a book that was shared by another Academy member. This could be an interpretation of the book's theme, a visual representation of a scene, or influenced by the emotions/ideas provoked by the book. Your art can be in any size or medium. Post your work in the Academy Facebook Group with the hashtag #a2lchallenge and share how it connects to the book that inspired it. We can't wait to see the results from this challenge!

Closing Call - January 31, 2024 at noon PT

Join Caroline and Stacy as they bring the Book Lovers Challenge to a close with a showcase of some selected artworks and a sharing of experiences of the challenge.
